

Discover your true purpose and make the change in the world that you are being called to make!

Do you long to connect deeply to yourself and your purpose?

Do you long to leave your mark in the world and make a real difference?

Do you lack clarity about your purpose, necessary to take massive action?

You are not alone.

Women everywhere are feeling called to make a difference. The call is strong, insistent – both internally and externally. The world is crying out of our help. The desire to help isn't enough. We need to know HOW we can help.

You need to

- Know the exact change that you are here to make in the world. The one that you have learning about your whole life.
- Know who you are to help. The people that need you and your unique gifts the most. This could be called your niche. It is so much more than that.
- Know the steps to take, one step after another to implement your unique change in the world.
- Know yourself at a very deep level – your fears, your joy, your struggle. For all of these have made you who you are today. These are the lessons that you have learnt so that you can live your purpose.
- Have a deep and loving connection with your own divinity. This connection will support you all the way and will lay out the path - your path, step by step.
- Find your faith and trust deep inside so you will walk with confidence to fulfil your greatest destiny.
- Know you are not alone. Both in the spiritual and the physical worlds. There are people who can help you discover and live your purpose. Giving you the tools and the support every step of the way.

Shiona Long from Authentic Success is one of those people sent to you to help you connect deeply to yourself, your divine voice and your purpose. This is her true purpose.

Shiona is both warm and professional, and offers a wealth of information and tools to enable the participants to delve deeply into key issues that shape the way they live and view life. As a spiritual coach myself, I find the tools Shiona employs as a True Purpose Coach extremely valuable and effective, while, on a personal level, I find endeavoring on the process she proposes powerful and enriching.

I have no doubt that Shiona has found her path in helping individuals learn how to discover their true purpose and live it and believe that anyone looking to find their own purpose with the aid of Shiona's guidance will not be sorry. Thank you, Shiona and great blessings upon your path!

The True Purpose™ Group Program

In this powerful group purpose program you will

- Work through the fears you have about finding and living your purpose.
- Learn powerful self-coaching tools that will allow you to work through any fear as you create powerful alignment with your heart and your mind. Both on the same page, working towards the same goal.
- Learn to make conscious two-way connection with your divine voice. The power and beauty of this connection cannot be underestimated.
- Feel deeply connected to your heart – centred in way that you could never have imagined.
- Ask any question and receive guidance about your purpose and any area of your life. This is true empowerment. You will become your own coach, with the support and love of your spirit.

You will explore your purpose in great depth

- The unique gift that you bring to people in your life. You have been doing this your whole life. Isn't it time you knew what that was?
- Who your target market is. Your sweet spot in the market place, the people that need you most.
- How they are feeling when they find you.
- The steps you are to take them through and how they will be transformed thanks to the gift that you have given them.
- When you are to stop. This is a powerful way to create strong strategic alliances with others and means that you are always working in a state of flow, joy and ultimate contribution.
- Learn powerful practices to integrate this into your life on every level.
- Most importantly you will learn how to give yourself your unique gift. To heal and love the essence of who you really are.

The most important gift that you can give yourself and the world is to find and live your purpose.

This is how you heal.
This is how you evolve consciously.
This is how you contribute, far beyond yourself.

You will become part of a powerful community of change agents – who know they are here to leave their mark in the world. To leave it better than they found it.

Here about the experiences of one of my clients who has completed this powerful program....

Before I started on the journey of discovering my purpose, I had the feeling that there is a message I was to share but no idea how to tap into that resource. Shiona respectfully, patiently and encouragingly guided me through the processes of connecting me with my higher self, my spirit.

The feeling of focus and faith that I gain from these dialogues is beyond words. I highly recommend the experience to anyone who is looking for more clarity and confidence because it was invaluable for me in moving forward both personally and with my business. Thanks to Shiona and my guides I can now finally live authentically and shine my light with courage and honor.
